INSTITUTIONAL DISTINCTIVENESS

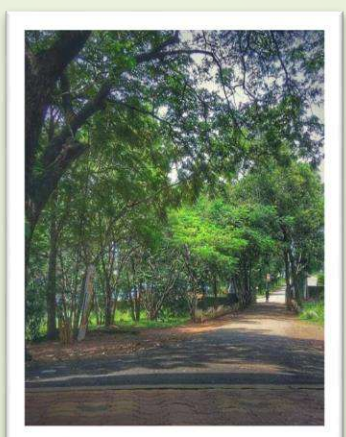

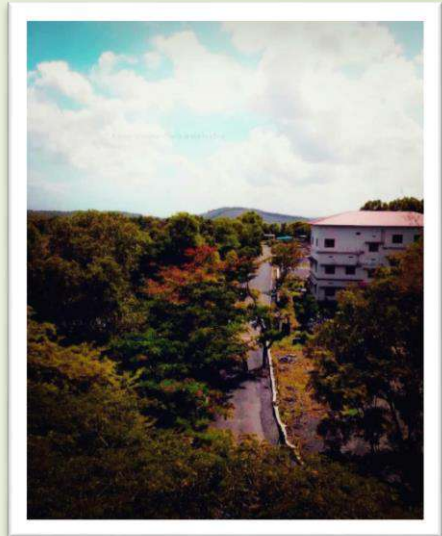

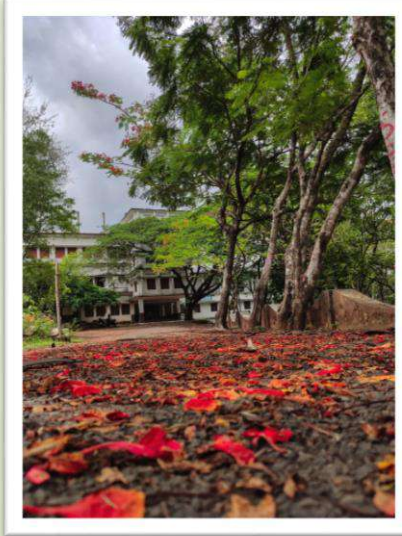

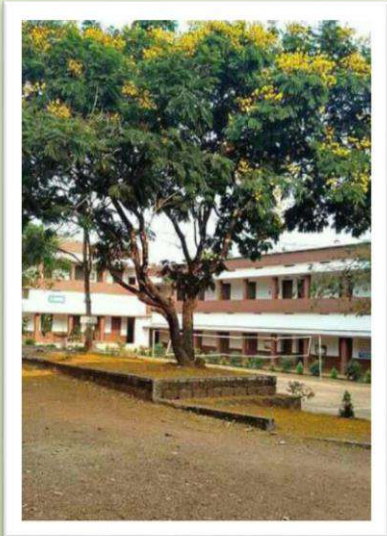

S.E.S. GREENS

Enkindles the light of knowledge and spreads the light of wisdom

The founders of the college dreamed of a higher education that “enkindles the light of knowledge and spreads the light of wisdom” in all walks of life. Being located in the hill top and midst of nature, the college stands distinct with its green campus. Since its inception, the founders have tried hard to make the campus more green and eco friendly even though tree plantation was a herculean task in the laterite geography of the campus premises. The green and eco friendly initiatives cover a wide scope in which awareness programmes, exhibitions, competitions, plantations, etc. are

Green Campus

Green Campus

a) River Protection Project

Green initiatives were not only restricted to campus but extended to the community too. To protect nature for posterity is one of the prime goals of the institution. Conservation and rebuilding of nature aims at cultivating a sense of responsibility in the stakeholders. Protection of water sources and biodiversity is also a goal of this practice. Hundred bamboo saplings were planted on the banks of ‘Mukkannithodu’ to protect it from landslides.

d) Sapling plantations

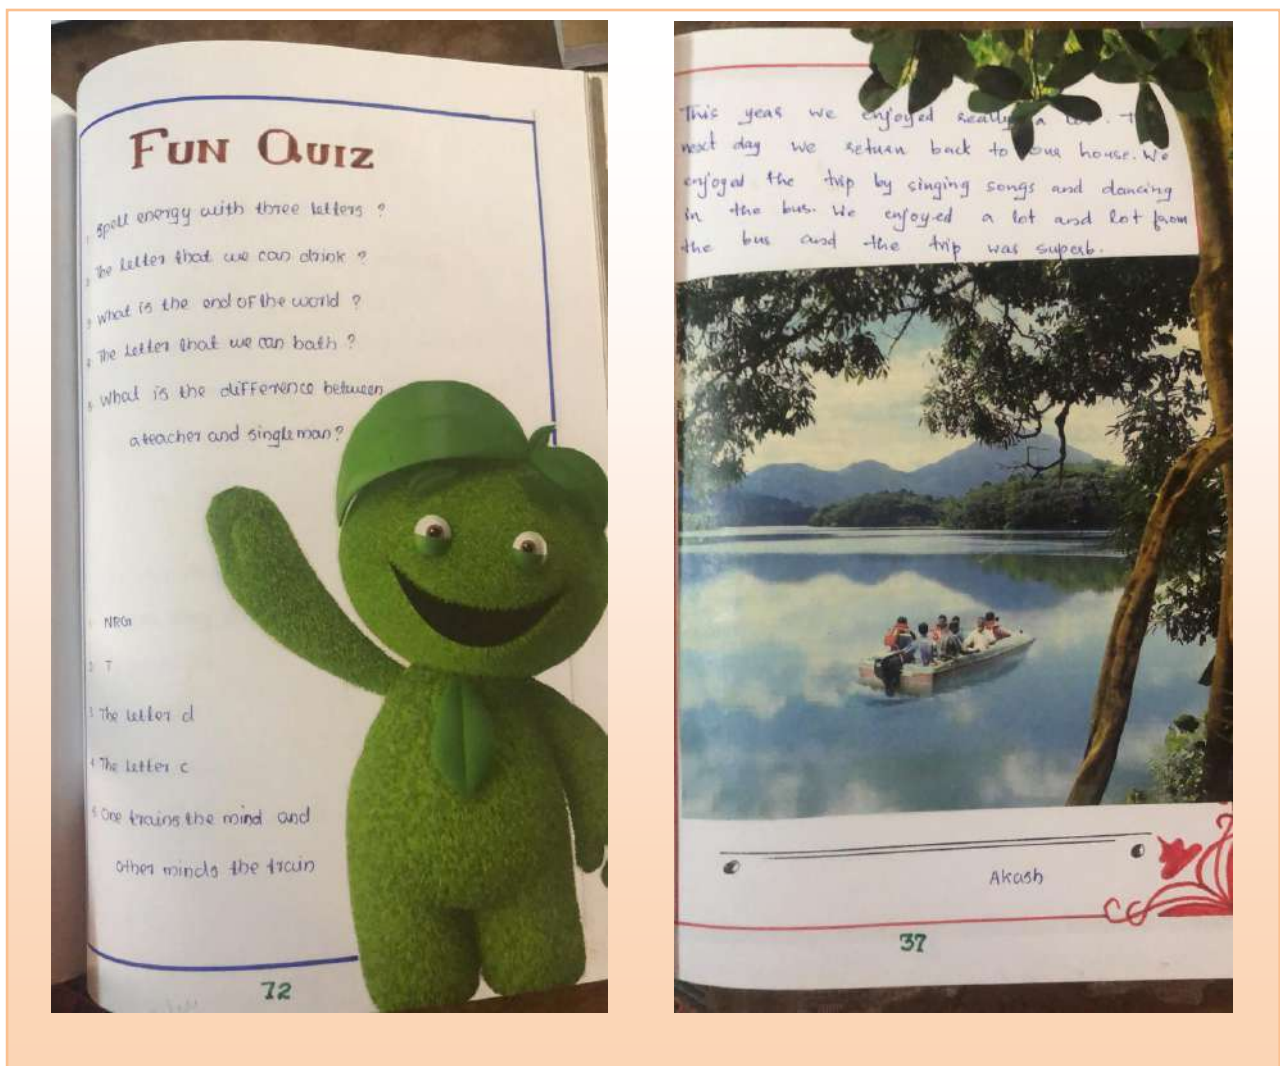

The barren laterite geography of the campus was made green due to the hard work of the former students and teachers. All the trees in the campus are planted by the students and conserved by the following generation. The green tradition is still carried on by the present stakeholders. Various departments, N.S.S., N.C.C., etc have taken keen interest in planting saplings in the campus and this recurrent activity helps in spreading the green message to students in an effective manner.

b) Eco Manuscript magazine Competition

Under the initiative of the Department of English, an eco manuscript magazine competition was conducted on March 3, 2016 for all the First year students. Kannur University has prescribed a Common English course titled “Language through Literature - II” (2A04ENG) which focuses on environment issues. And so, the Department of English organised an eco manuscript magazine competition among the first year students to create awareness on the significance of environment conservation.

The conservation, preservation and protection of Nature are of utmost importance today. In order to be close with nature and to learn more experience with nature, the NSS volunteers of S.E.S. College made a trip to Kottiyoor forest on August 21, 2015 and another Nature Camp from Nov 11 to Nov 13, 2017 to Thirunelli in collaboration with Nature Club. A.S.A.P. organised a Nature trip to the Palakkayam Thattu on Oct 14, 2018 and spent a day there to explore the beauty of nature. N.C.C. Cdets conducted trekking camp to Paithalmala on March 11, 2018 to walk through nature. The Department of English made a one day outing to Josegiri Agriculture Farm on May 1, 2018 and familiarised the various species of fruits, plants and vegetables.

Nature camps allow one to gain first hand knowledge about the environment and enable one to live in close communion with Nature.

S.E.S. Cares

The social responsibility of a higher education institution is deeply rooted in carving out a future generation who is both socially committed and socially responsible. This can fruitfully happen only if the institution provides ample opportunities for its students to engage in social activities and produce exemplary works in the field of social works. The N.S.S and N.C.C units and various departments are regularly involved in social service activities. Constructions of roads, cleaning activities, etc. are undertaken by the NSS volunteers. N.C.C also involves in various activities like repairing roads, cleaning public places etc. Moreover, our students along with staff visit various old age homes, poor homes and orphanages at regular intervals. Apart from financial assistance, the students render services like washing clothes, and nursing old people and patients.
